FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, April 8.—One of the most enjoyable affairs of the past week was the Sunday night supper at which Col. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln were hosts in their charming home in Manoa valley. Supper was served at little tables, which were attractively decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers, a small gilt basket filled with violets and pink sweet peas tied with violet and pink tulle adorning the center of each table, around which covers were placed for four. Among those who enjoyed this most delightful evening were Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Mr. Bayard Randolph, Madam Randolph, Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Maj. and Mrs. Michael J. Lenihan, Capt. and Mrs. James E. Bell, Lieut. and Mrs. F. F. Black, Capt. and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Lieut. and Mrs. Lloyd Fredendall, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Lieut. and Mrs. T. J. Camp, Lieut. Joseph McAndrew, Gen. and Mrs. Johnson, N. G. H.; Col. and Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Dyer, Maj. and Mrs. G. McD. Van Poole, Miss Brinkley, Maj. and Mrs. Gose, Maj. and Mrs. Russell, Capt. and Mrs. Jack Hayes, Capt. and Mrs. Booth, Mr. Hobby and Maj. Redington, N. G. H.

The Evening Bridge Club met on Monday evening for the first time in three weeks, and as usual the club had a large attendance. Perhaps it was because of that for the past few weeks the meeting of this club had been missed there was a larger gathering of bridge enthusiasts than usual, there being six tables of cards. Mrs. William B. Cochran was hostess last Monday evening, but owing to being indisposed Capt. Cochran received the guests, among whom were: Capt. and Mrs. Robert Peck, Lieut. and Mrs. Martin, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Mrs. Michael Lenihan, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Mrs. Howell-Clinton, Lieut. Alfred Rockwood, Lieut. Adrian Polhemus, Lieut. Douglas T. Greene, Mrs. Roe, Col. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Capt. and Mrs. James E. Bell, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday and Lieut. and Mrs. F. F. Black. Lieut. Theodore Martin held the highest score for the evening and won the prize, a most attractive pottery bowl in a Japanese wicker holder.

Quite a few from the post motored down to the transport before sailing time last Tuesday afternoon, as many had friends returning to the mainland. Among those noticed on the dock were Capt. and Mrs. Mary McKellar, Maj. and Mrs. B. J. Edgar, Lieut. and Mrs. Benjamin F. McClellan, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Lyon, Miss Hill, Miss Dorothy Harker, Mrs. P. B. Malone, Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Col. and Mrs. Howell, Lieut. and Mrs. P. S. Reinike, Lieut. Douglas T. Greene, Lieut. F. F. Jack, Lieut. Halloran, Col. and Mrs. Lincoln, Capt. and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, and others.

Miss Jocelyn Parker was a passenger on the Great Northern when she sailed for San Francisco last Tuesday. Miss Parker has been the house-guest of Miss Bonnie Scott for the past fortnight, and has made many friends during the past winter spent in Honolulu, and her departure will be deeply regretted by many. Miss Parker will join her father in San Francisco.

Measles have again broken out at the fort and several cases have developed, mainly among the non-commissioned officers' row in the cantonment, but little Marion Cochran, in the main garrison, is now ill, but her condition is improving and it will not be long before she will have entirely recovered.

On Saturday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler entertained informally at dinner at their quarters in the cantonment. Around the prettily appointed table covers were laid for Col. and Mrs. Walter H. Chatfield, Mrs. Tupper and the host and hostess.

The post sewing club met at the quarters of Mrs. William Reese Scott last Tuesday afternoon, and among those present were Mrs. Frederick Black, Mrs. Robert Peck, Mrs. Witell, Mrs. Abraham and Mrs. William R. Dashiell.

Maj. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell entertained at dinner at their quarters in the main garrison on Sunday for Maj. and Mrs. Ernest B. Gose and on Monday evening for Col. and Mrs. Walter H. Chatfield and Mrs. Tupper.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday entertained informally at dinner in their charming quarters in the cantonment last Tuesday evening. Their guests were Capt. and Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum and Master Boo Rosenbaum.

Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Parker expect to sail on the transport Logan for San Francisco next Tuesday. Capt. Parker having been recently ordered to the Letterman hospital at the Presidio.

Col. and Mrs. Walter H. Chatfield and Mrs. Tupper were dinner guests of Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Peck at their quarters in the cantonment on Tuesday evening.

Quite a number of the garrison motored out to Fort Kamehameha on Friday evening to a dance given by the officers and ladies of that post.

Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas L. Crystal were the dinner guests on Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harris of New York at the Moana hotel.

few months, will leave for the mainland on the Logan, April 11th.

Master Malcolm Knowles, son of Capt. and Mrs. A. C. Knowles, underwent a slight operation at the Department Hospital on Friday morning, and is rapidly convalescing.

Mrs. Frank Anderson Sloan is a patient at the Department Hospital.

Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson have cancelled all social engagements owing to the death of Mrs. Jamerson's mother. This sad news reached Mrs. Jamerson by cable on Thursday, and her many friends deeply sympathize with her.

Mrs. Ralph Holliday was hostess at a most enjoyable card party Friday at her home in the cantonment. There were three tables of bridge and one of five hundred. Mrs. Wheeler, having the highest bridge score, won the prize, a most attractive dish in a Japanese wicker holder; and Miss Hill won the five hundred prize, a half dozen bread and butter plates.

Those who played bridge were Mrs. Clyde B. Abraham, Mrs. Thomas J. Camp, Mrs. Robert Calder, Mrs. Edwin Peck, Madame Randolph, Mrs. Witell, Mrs. Theodore Martin, Mrs. Paul B. Malone, Mrs. Fredendall, Mrs. Woodfin G. Jones, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, and Miss Catherine Lenihan, while those who enjoyed the five hundred were Mrs. Paul R. Manchester, Mrs. Robert Lyon, Miss Hill and Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum. After several rubbers of bridge tea was served, and several more dropped in for this at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Malone and Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum assisted Mrs. Holliday in serving tea. Among those coming in later were Mrs. F. F. Barker, Mrs. George H. Halloran, Mrs. F. F. Black, Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. Benjamin McClellan and Mrs. Thomas L. Crystal.

ARMY AND NAVY SOCIETY ON COAST

Even though many of the army men are down "somewhere in Mexico" or along the border now, the social circles of San Francisco and vicinity, in which the military men and their ladies move, seem very gay this winter.

Not only service folk, but many of the civilians of Honolulu as well, are acquainted with the various personages mentioned in the following excerpts from San Francisco society columns:

Admiral's Ball. Rarely indeed do the exigencies of the United States navy's official regime call for the presence of six admirals in one port at one time. But it so happens that there is a constellation of notables of the first naval magnitude at San Diego at this time, and they made an imposing and impressive picture last night at the naval ball given at the Hotel Coronado for the benefit of the Navy Relief Society.

To be accurate, four of the admirals are "retired," but this fact did not detract from the glamour of the ball nor lessen their appeal to the imagination as figures of military importance. The two leading personages at the ball were Admiral Cameron McRae Winslow, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, U. S. N., and Rear Admiral William F. Pullam, commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet, both at San Diego with their flagships.

The four retired admirals present were Rear Admiral Uriel Sebree, Rear Admiral Edward D. Taussig, Rear Admiral Thomas C. McLean and Rear Admiral Charles A. Gove. All were accompanied by their wives.

The scene was one of splendor, accompanied by the spectacular attributes which cannot be dissociated from a military function, no matter how softened by social amenities. The ballroom was hung with the Stars and Stripes, the navy and admiralty flags and quantities of flowers. The gowns of the women were as handsome as any seen this year at the fashionable hostelry, where dressing is exalted to a fine art.

The music was furnished by bands from the two flagships, the U. S. S. San Diego and the U. S. S. Maryland.—San Francisco Examiner.

Lieut. Kinchen L. Hill was host at a luncheon Wednesday at Yerba Buena island, where the young officer is stationed. The luncheon was followed by a lawn tennis tourney in the splendid spring weather. Some of the guests were Ensign and Mrs. Robert Carey, Miss Marguerite Muller, Miss Dorothy Deane and Lieut. Hollis Muller, U. S. A.

Miss Muller is the guest of her brother, Lieut. Muller, who is stationed at Fort Scott. She has recently come from her home in the East to spend the spring and summer months here.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Charles Fremont Pond, wife of Admiral Pond, U. S. N., will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given next Thursday at the St. Francis Hotel by the woman's section of the Navy League. Mrs. Pond is the regent of the California Peace Preparedness Chapter of the league. Mrs. Louis S. Chappelle, wife of Capt. Chappelle, U. S. A., is vice-president, Mrs. Bowie Detrick treasurer and Mrs. Harry Maxwell auditor. Most of the officers of the army and navy are represented in this body by their wives or other women members of their families.

The luncheon is a subscription affair.—San Francisco Examiner.

Miss Margaret Fechteler is at Annapolis, the guest of Admiral and Mrs. Frank Beatty. She is having a particularly pleasant time by reason of the fact that she has two brothers who are cadets at the Naval Academy mer at Newport, where her father, Admiral Fechteler, is stationed. Miss Fechteler is the granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Morrow.—San Francisco Examiner.

The home of Major-General and Mrs. J. Franklin Bell was the mecca of scores of musically-inclined folk one afternoon recently, when Mrs. Russell Canfield, cousin of Mrs. Bell, gave an interesting disquisition on "Musical Training for Children." Mrs. Canfield's home in Berkeley is the rendezvous of a coterie of musical people.—San Francisco Examiner.

Col. and Mrs. Thomas H. Rees, U. S. A., were hosts Monday on board the yacht, the Suisun, in honor of Major and Mrs. Kenney Hampton. Others who enjoyed the cruise were Mesdames Alfred Hunter, William Timson, Gustave Boyer, Louis Chappelle, James H. Frier, George T. Perkins and Miss Donnellan.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. W. O. Cullen, sister of Mrs. Frederick Funston, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. William Hoff Cook Tuesday. Among the guests were many of the service set about the bay. Assisting the hostess were Mesdames Harold Philby, Charles Christian, Mills P. Cook and Robert Lee Irvine.—San Francisco Examiner.

Surgeon J. V. Howard, U. S. N., has been assigned to the Raleigh, now at San Diego, and Mrs. Howard accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Wyman, left this week for the south to join him there.

Dr. and Mrs. Prentiss are occupying the quarters vacated by the Howards at Mare Island.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. R. J. Albert of Richmond was the guest of friends at the Presidio this week. Mrs. Albert is the daughter of the late Capt. Grant Marsh and granddaughter of Governor Gregory of Virginia. She was one of the popular belles at Fort Keogh, spending her vacations at the home of Maj. Hathaway.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Frederick W. Lewis will leave this week for Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., where she will join Capt. Lewis, who preceded her by several weeks.—San Francisco Chronicle.
